

How to Get Your Assignments

Missing an assignment can result in forfeits for students and punitive fines for judges. But help is at hand. There is a bell-button on the top right of the tabroom home screen across from your email address. It starts out red; press it, and it turns green and allows tabroom blasts to be sent directly to the device in your hands. It's the best way to keep up with your assignments for both debaters and judges. CHECK IT OUT!!!

The little mail icon (4th in from the left) will light up when you have a new message, including assignments. Click it and you'll be taken to your mailbox.

Your Tabroom Message Inbox

Note that messages won't live here forever; they'll be auto-deleted starting a week after the tournament that sent them is over, or a month after they're sent if they're not tied to a tournament.
